German-styled Christmas market slated for Milwaukee

Milwaukeeans will have another outdoor, winter activity to enjoy this holiday season, as the Milwaukee Bucks have unveiled plans to host a German-inspired holiday market on the Fiserv Forum plaza. This will complement the European-themed Old World Third Street. Partnering with the noted German American Chamber of the Midwest, the Bucks organization will transform the plaza into a month-long holiday village featuring approximately 30 vendors in traditional candy-cane-striped, wooden huts.

Features

The market will run from November 17th through December 31st. Features will include delicious European and German culinary treats, hot spiced wine, gift items, fine beer, hand-crafted ornaments, and entertainment for all. See photos below of Christkindlmarket in Germany.

Nominate someone (or yourself) for “Meet your [ethnic] neighbor”

Urban Anthropology Inc. is working on constructing a website based on its study of Greater Milwaukee ethnicity between 2000 and 2012, which included over 400 interviews with representatives of 65 ethnic groups.

The website, expected to be launched beginning late 2019 will include the following information on each ethnic group: history in Milwaukee, local and nonlocal contributions, special events commemorating the group; cultural practices, arts, historical figures, ethnic issues (where applicable), and culinary topics and recipes. In memory of Mr. Rodgers, there will also be a section on “Meet your neighbor,” which will feature everyday representatives of each ethnic group.

Are you a participant in your ethnic activities? If so, Urban Anthropology Inc. wants you to nominate someone to represent your group in the “Meet Your Neighbor” segment of the upcoming website. Rather than looking for nominees who hold leadership or other high status positions in the community, consider grassroots options (e.g., your local grocery store clerk, church choir member, police officer, letter carrier, mother, construction worker).

Ask yourself these questions.

1. Does your nominee have at least two grandparents from the ethnic group?
2. Is your nominee a regular attendee at ethnic events?
3. Is there something he or she does that particularly represents the ethnic group (e.g., makes home-made pierogies; carves masks, makes story cloths)?
4. Is your nominee also interested in and appreciative of other ethnic groups?

If you are that person, nominate yourself. Send your nomination with contact info to Dr. Jill Florence Lackey:

after for her vast collection of Irish songs. His father, the legendary Tommy Makem, who died in 2007, is widely known as the modern Bard of Armagh. Touring with the Clancy Brothers, Tommy brought Irish music to an international audience beginning in the 1950s.

A seasoned performer with more than 25 years on the road, Makem captivates audiences with his skilled musicianship, his charisma and passion for the songs, his extensive knowledge of poetry and history, and his sense of humor. An adept interpreter of folk songs, he is also a multi-instrumentalist.

Known to Milwaukee audiences

Makem is well known to Milwaukee audiences through frequent performances at Irish Fest accompanying his father and with Makem and Spain. Makem and Dónal Clancy, son of the late Liam Clancy, made their debut as a duo at the ICHC in 2017.

Irish Cultural and Heritage programs are supported in part by a grant from the Wisconsin Arts Board with funds from the State of Wisconsin and the National Endowment for the Arts. The ICHC supports the Irish community by serving as a venue dedicated to enhancing, promoting and preserving Irish culture and heritage along with serving the community at large. The center, housed in the landmark 1880s former Grand Avenue Congregational Church, is the site for concerts, art exhibits, Irish dances and genealogical research.

Not limiting himself to the stage, Makem has performed on movie soundtracks and his compositions can be heard woven into a number of PBS programs. He has recorded with many of the luminaries in folk music including Noel Paul Stookey, Tom Paxton, Schooner Fare and Gordon Bok.

Tickets

Concert tickets are $21 in advance, $25 on concert day, $10 for students with ID and free for ages 12 and under. For more information and to order tickets online, go to www.ichc.net or call (414) 345-8800.

The Celtic Christmas Boutique and bake sale in the ICHC Parlour will begin prior to the concert at 6 p.m. and remain open during the concert and intermission.

Jimmy Keane/Dennis Cahill at the Irish Cultural and Heritage Center

Two of Irish music's most inventive and highly regarded musicians, Jimmy Keane and special guest Dennis Cahill, will bring their show, Reelin' in the Years, to the Irish Cultural and Heritage Center, 2133 W. Wisconsin Ave., Milwaukee on Friday, Nov. 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Accordianist Keane and guitarist/vocalist Cahill perform music ranging from ancient airs to newly composed tunes. The two have been friends and musical companions since first meeting in Chicago in the early 1980s.

Born in London to Irish-speaking parents from Connemara and County Kerry, Keane's accomplishments are far-reaching and include winning five consecutive All-Ireland titles on the piano accordion. He is an avid collector and arranger of old tunes and is increasingly known for original compositions, many of which have become part of mainstream traditional music. He has produced and recorded a number of albums and is associated with numerous groups including behola and Green Fields of America. Online music source DMusic described him as "one of the true giants of Irish traditional music of the past fifty years" and singer-songwriter Christy Moore called his playing "wild and beautiful."

Cahill is considered one of the world's finest guitarists in traditional Irish music. His unique playing, accompaniment and arranging are acknowledged as a major breakthrough for guitar. "Brilliant" (National Public Radio) and "crucial" (Folk Roots UK) are two of the descriptions of his spare, essential playing. Cahill is perhaps best known for his long musical partnership with fiddler Martin Hayes and is a founding member of new superior group The Gloaming.

Concert tickets are $25 in advance, $29 on concert day, $10 for students with ID and free for ages 12 and younger. For more information and to order tickets online, go to www.ichc.net or call (414) 345-8800.

The Zadnja Kaplja Band from ILLINOIS

Translated to "Thanks to Autumn", this celebration in Slovenia includes the arrival of wine queens, bracelets, folklorists, farm women, rafters, and representatives of wine-growing and brother-in-towns who visit the city core, bringing with them autumn crops and goodies in order to symbolically thank the autumn. In honor of St. Martin and the Old Vine, this event on St. Martin's Day, the saint who transforms must into wine, symbolizes the end of the entire vineyard's efforts, as well as the conclusion of the Old Vine Festival, the top wine and culinary festival, culture, and entertainment organized in honor of the Old Vine, the oldest vine in the world.

$25.00 per person / $45 per couple

Assortment of appetizers, desserts, soda & coffee included in the price.
Slovenian wines will be available at the cash bar.

Milwaukee's Cultural Connect online Ethnic education for youth

The Cultural Connect program (CC) began as a series of documentaries based on the 12-year ethnic study conducted by 70 cultural anthropologists in Milwaukee. The documentaries appeared locally on television on PBS and/or on the MATA channel.

Later these documentaries were included in an 8-unit youth program in over 20 schools and each unit was conducted by anthropologists of the same ethnic background as the unit being presented. Over the years, more components of this program were developed.

Now the program is available at no charge at www.teacheraidsforkidsmilwaukee.com/CC_main.html

Program description

Cultural Connect is designed for middle and high school age youth and their teachers (or program coordinators) who want to learn more about Milwaukee ethnic groups. The units include documentaries of approximately a half-hour in duration, teachers' guides, games, pre/post surveys, and talking point resources. Groups featured include Milwaukee (1) African Americans, (2) Puerto Ricans, (3) Irish, (4) Germans, (5) Hmong, (6) American Indians, (7) Mexicans, and (8) Poles. Each video documentary is hosted by an anthropologist of the ethnic group featured and includes the voices of key informants of each group.

A bonus unit is provided on the Milwaukee homeless population.

A CHRISTMAS GYMANFA GANU HYMN SING

November 18 at 2:30 PM

The Historic Cathedral Church of St. Paul the Apostle

51 W. Division Street, Fond du Lac

by Ann E. Lemmenes

The Welsh have a Christmas Gymanfa Ganu or Carol Fest every year in November to beat the Christmas Rush and get you ready for the season. Also we hope to avoid winter weather as we travel long distances to attend.

Each year we are hosted by a different church. Fond du Lac's Episcopal Cathedral at 51 W. Division Street has invited us this year. You will think you've entered Europe when you step in the building. It has carved angels in the buttresses and a bishop's tomb within the cathedral building just like in Llandaff Cathedral in Wales where I took pipe organ lessons. (Spooky.)

Rev. Tom White of North Fond du Lac will be directing and Steven Jensen from Milwaukee will play the pipe organ. Singing will be in English and some Welsh.

The Cathedral has a lovely courtyard and tea will be served in a building off the courtyard. I will be bringing my china cups and saucers and tea pots and electric tea kettles, tea cozies and Britta filter water and PG Tips Tea. See you there!

MISSIONS.

260. ST. LOUIS. 8.7.8.7.4.7. W. B. GILBERT.

O'er the gloomy hills of darkness
Look, my soul! be still,—and gaze;
See the promises advancing
To a glorious day of grace:
Blessed jubilee!
Let thy glorious morning dawn.

Let the dark benighted pagan,
Let the rude barbarian see
That divine and glorious conquest,
Once obtained on Calvary:
Let the gospel
Loud resound, from pole to pole!

Kingdoms wide that sit in darkness—
Grant them, Lord, the glorious light;
Now from eastern coast to western
May the morning chase the night;
Let redemption,
Freely purchased, win the day.

Fly abroad, thou mighty gospel!
Win and conquer,—never cease;
May Thy lasting, wide dominions
Multiply and still increase;
Sway Thy sceptre,
Saviour! all the world around. Amen.

Stand for the Arts Award Recipient

Ovation, America's only arts network, joined Spectrum to recognize and award Latino Arts, Inc. $10,000 as part of their Stand for the Arts joint initiative, which is dedicated to supporting local arts, cultural and educational organizations. Ovation and Spectrum highlighted this award at the organization's Noche de Gala event, Saturday, Sept. 22 at 7 p.m., at Latino Arts, Inc., located at 1028 South 9th Street in Milwaukee.

The award will be used for outreach to raise awareness of available grants and scholarships that promote the arts throughout the Greater Milwaukee area.

"We partnered with Spectrum here in Milwaukee to recognize Latino Arts, Inc. outstanding work as a highly creative arts organization and a key contributor to the community and the local economy," said Sol Doten, Vice President of Content Distribution and Marketing for Ovation. "Spectrum has been a great partner and supporter of Ovation and we are extremely pleased they joined us in Milwaukee and across the country for our Stand for the Arts Awards program."

In addition to the monetary donation, Spectrum will also run public service announcements to highlight its Stand for the Arts partnership with Ovation and reinforce the value local arts organizations bring to communities across the country.

Grant recipients were chosen based on three criteria: their level of community outreach and engagement; their ability to create inclusive access to artistic programming; and, their innovative approach to arts education and skills development.

Ethnic Wisconsin in books

NON-FICTION

In this intimate volume edited by Herbert Lewis, the long-lost voices of Wisconsin Oneida men and women speak of all aspects of life: growing up, work and economic struggles, family relations, belief and religious practice, boarding-school life, love, sex, sports, and politics. These voices are drawn from a collection of handwritten accounts recently rediscovered after more than fifty years, the result of a WPA Federal Writers' Project undertaking called the Oneida Ethnological Study (1940–42) in which a dozen Oneida men and women were hired to interview their families and friends and record their own experiences and observations.

www.nebraskapress.unl.edu

In this all-new addition to the People of Wisconsin series, author Susan Mikos traces the history of Polish immigrants as they settled in America's northern heartland. The second largest immigrant population after Germans, Poles put down roots in all corners of the state, from the industrial center of Milwaukee to the farmland around Stevens Point, in the Cutover, and beyond. In each locale, they brought with them a hunger to own land, a willingness to work hard, and a passion for building churches.

The Old South Side has always welcomed ethnic groups. In the late 1800s, the area was developed by immigrant Poles who became the dominant population for over 100 years. While other Milwaukee ethnic neighborhoods gradually dissipated in the mid-20th century because of assimilation pressures, freeway building, or urban renewal, the Old South Side remained solidly Polish. A survey nearly a half century later revealed that people of 110 national backgrounds now lived in the area.

"My dear Meyer," chided the old historian, "why should anyone be surprised by shootings at the Tall House? Have you looked into its past?"

The young anthropology intern was more than willing to look. Meyer Hoffmann's voracious curiosity led him on a course of inquiry about the Tall House, those who'd lived there, and the neighborhood itself. As zealous Meyer uncovered information about the Tall House's history, he blundered to false conclusions as often as he stumbled onto correct ones. The only thing Meyer knew for certain was that everything about these shootings connected to forced ethnic migrations of the past. Yet no one—not the guests, not the neighbors—acted very concerned about these shootings. After all, weren't they designed to be victimless? Perhaps, initially. But that changed. www.MECAHmilwaukee.com

When the family of Leroy Cyrus decided to board him at the sumptuous Tall House, the resident social justice workers didn't know how to respond. Cyrus, now demented, was once a person of interest in the murder of the best friend of the Tall House's proprietor, Sherilyn Riddle. She questioned whether it was ethical to interrogate a man with Alzheimer's disease. One boarder that had no problems with the ethics of this investigation was anthropology student, Meyer Hoffmann. He'd do whatever was necessary to solve this and possibly related murders. But the question was—how can he know if the information he gleaned from Cyrus was true, fabricated, or based on false memories? www.MECAHmilwaukee.com

Kids in Cultures edu-cates (while entertaining) children on key concepts of diversity, including culture, ethnicity, and multicultural societies. Kids learn about these concepts through stories of children in various eras and cultural settings in SE Wisconsin. The authors are authorities in their fields. Stories include "Mammoth meat," "Barbara Smith is German?" "Showing up is important: A Hmong virtue," "Firefly nights: An urban Oneida story," "Snow falls in Bronzeville," and "The Braves take the World Series: A Polish and Mexican story." www.MECAHmilwaukee.com

A Time of Terror: A Survivor's Story by James Cameron is the only account ever written by a survivor of a lynching. Thanks to America's Black Holocaust Museum and its parent organization, the Dr. James Cameron Legacy Foundation, the book is now available again to a general audience. The Foundation has preserved this fascinating out-of-print book by publishing and distributing a revised 3rd edition. This new edition includes five never-before-published chapters, photographs, and information for students and teachers.

The Foundation will also properly preserve and store Dr. Cameron's original manuscript. www.abhmuseum.org

American Ethnic Practices in the Early Twenty-first Century: The Milwaukee Study is a work based on a twelve-year research project conducted by Urban Anthropology, Inc. The qualitative study examined current strength of ethnicity and the contributions that ethnic practices have made to the wider society. The work takes a new approach by focusing on ethnic practices. The most prominent findings in the book were the ways that community-building activities of ethnic groups contributed to the wider society, and how this, in turn can help restore a needed balance between individualism and collectivism in the United States. www.lexingtonbooks.com

Mystery novels to support development of neighborhood museums

The author of the Tall House mystery series, Sienna Jacks, is about to author a series of novels that take place in Milwaukee neighborhoods. The first offering will take place on Brady Street.

The first novel in this series is expected out in late autumn of 2018.

As a former resident in numerous Milwaukee neighborhoods, Dr. Jacks will be donating most of her royalties for the creation of small museums to honor local history.

Discussions are underway to develop small museums in these neighborhoods, and more:

Lincoln Village
Bronzeville
Sherman Park
Walker's Point
Brady Street

Publisher focuses on ethnic Milwaukee

Presents opportunities for local writers

Milwaukee Ethnic Collection of Arts and Humanities (MECAH Publishing) recently opened in Milwaukee. Its goals are to:

- Interest readers in the cultural diversity of Milwaukee and its surrounding communities.
- Produce products that fit one or more of these arts and humanities: history, anthropology/archaeology, folk art, art history, museums, literature (including poetry and fiction), language, architecture, and religion.
- Target the products to lay audiences of all ages (e.g., non academic).

Products that relate to urban centers of southeast Wisconsin and highlight cultural diversity will be considered, and can include any of the following:

- Nonfiction books (e.g., small museums in southeastern Wisconsin, the history of Pentecostal churches in Milwaukee).
- Fiction books (e.g., a mystery set in Milwaukee, a book for young people with a local immigration theme).
- Documentaries (e.g., the Irish of southeastern Wisconsin; a reproduction of a play with a Milwaukee theme).

The work of Urban Anthropology

Urban Anthropology Inc. (UrbAn), the publisher of this newsletter, is an organization of cultural anthropologists dedicated to the celebration of cultural diversity and developing assets in Milwaukee neighborhoods. Among its accomplishments in the past two decades are the following:

- 12-year study of 65 ethnic groups in the Greater Milwaukee area, resulting in multiple youth and adult programs and two books.
- Oral history of 29 Milwaukee neighborhoods, resulting in website, multiple programs, and two books.
- 15 documentaries, based on the above studies.
- 100 life histories of the Milwaukee homeless, resulting in Marquette curriculum and documentaries
- Over 30 programs to beautify and improve Milwaukee neighborhoods
- Training of over 80 anthropology interns in grassroots research
- Publication of bimonthly, Milwaukee Ethnic News.
- Website of 191 Milwaukee neighborhoods (see page 11).
- Website of aids for teaching cultural diversity to students, based on past UrbAn youth programs (see page 7).
- Currently working with three neighborhoods to develop block museums
- Three plays on Milwaukee history
- Study on immigration and work ethics.

Milwaukee Ethnic News

Milwaukee Ethnic News is published bimonthly by Urban Anthropology Inc. and is managed by volunteer anthropologists. The purpose of the newsletter is to offer ethnic organizations and individuals opportunities to share news and information about their cultures. The newsletter does not receive funds from any external source. The editor is Dr. Jill Florence Lackey.

Subscriptions

The newsletter is emailed to anyone wishing to receive it. People subscribing themselves and their friends went from 48 in June, 2012 to over 1,000 currently. If you wish your email or that of a friend to be added to the subscriber list, send the email addresses to JFLanthropologist@sbcglobal.net.

Submitting stories

Milwaukee Ethnic News is interested in stories from individuals, businesses, and organizations that have an ethnic appeal. These can be stories about an immigrant family, special ethnic events, or ethnic issues that need to be aired as guest editorials. Stories that show interethnic cooperation are most welcome.

Stories must be between 100 and 400 words. Some editing will be done to match our style guidelines and spatial constraints. We will write the stories for you if you simply send us a list of the information that you want included. A photo of less than 2 MBs is always required for a story to be published. Please do not refer us to websites to collect information or photos. If we write your story from the general information you send, we do not send proofs for approval.

Stories are always due on the 25th of the month preceding a publication month. At times later submissions may be allowed (ask first). Publication months are July, September, November, January, March, and May. Please send your stories to JFLanthropologist@sbcglobal.net.

Editorials

Milwaukee Ethnic News occasionally prints editorials or opinion pieces that deal with ethnic topics. Guest editorials are also welcome, but need prior approval to be published.
